More than $29,000 in Thrift Stamps and Baby Bonds have been sold in Lexington by all agencies up to date. Six branches of service in the U. S. Army are now open for the men of draft age, viz: auto repair, general repair, electricians for the aviation section, medical, infantry and coast artillery. Those wishing to volunteer see any member of the local draft board.

M. T. Hartman for Collector.

M. T. Hartman announces this week as candidate for the nomination of county collector, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on August 6, 1918.

Mr. Hartman is and always has been a party worker in the Democratic party and at all times has upheld the principles of this party. This is the first time he has been a candidate for a county office, and he feels certain of his party support.

Prior to this Mr. Hartman has put in nearly a year's work in the county collector's office during the busy season, and is acquainted with the work. He is fully capable of filling the office and if elected will endeavor to give satisfaction to all.

Lafayette county was the birthplace of Mr. Hartman, and he has never voted outside of the county. For two years he attended the University of Missouri, and spent the same amount of time as bookkeeper in a Slater Bank. This training has qualified him for the office, and voters who give him their support at the election can be assured that Mr. Hartman will fulfill his part in giving the taxpayers of the county the best service they can wish for in connection with the county collector's office.

Trades in Real Estate.

John K. Taubman of the Catron-Taubman Abstract & Agency Co., turned two more good trades in real estate recently. He traded for E. B. Vaughan the suburban Peak residence which Mr. Vaughan recently bought, to John Chamberlain for the Chamberlain residence on South St. He then sold the Peak place for Mr. Chamberlain to John M. Seiter.

Last week Mr. Taubman sold the Fred Goodbrake farm of 50 acres, between Lexington and Wellington, to Jack Goodloe for $75.00 per acre.

Frank T. Chew Promoted.

Frank T. Chew, a Lexington boy and a brother of Mrs. M. D. Wilson, of this city, in command of construction at the Seattle, Washington, navy yard, has recently been promoted from Lieutenant to Lieutenant Commander. This rank corresponds to that of Major in the army.

Polk Phillips Candidate For County Collector.

Polk Phillips of Aullville, announces in this issue of The Intelligencer his candidacy for collector of revenue of Lafayette county.

Mr. Phillips has been the wheel horse of the Democratic party in the east end of the county for a number of years. He has taken great interest in party affairs and given much of his time to the success of county candidates and the ticket in general. He has never before asked anything for himself, and, in view of past efforts in behalf of others, he feels that the members of the party will give him favorable consideration in the contest for the nomination.

Mr. Phillips was educated at the Odessa College. He taught school for several years, has engaged in general merchandising, and last but most important, farming and stock raising. He recently sold his farm and is now living in Aullville.

Mr. Phillips has a wide acquaintance throughout the county; he has many friends, all of whom know of his sterling character, and his fitness for the office, and who will feel assured that if he is successful the affairs of the office will be in competent hands.
